

Touched by Alzheimer's Disease?

If you have a parent diagnosed with Alzheimer's disease, consider participating...

Investigators are studying middle-aged children with at least one parent diagnosed with Alzheimer's disease to learn more about early markers of risk including cognitive changes, and brain-related functions

